February 2017

The start of the year ushered in a wave of good news about a hot stock market, higher wages and an active home sales environment. At the same time, housing prices have continued to rise, and the low inventory situation and affordability crunch has been particularly hard on first-time buyers struggling to get into the market. Nevertheless, buyer activity is easily outpacing seller activity in much of the country, culminating in relatively quick sales and low supply. Demand definitely remained strong this month.

Closed Sales decreased 0.8 percent for Detached homes and 14.1 percent for Attached homes. Pending Sales increased 1.5 percent for Detached homes and 0.2 percent for Attached homes. Inventory decreased 29.9 percent for Detached homes and 34.7 percent for Attached homes.

The Median Sales Price was up 7.9 percent to $565,000 for Detached homes and 10.0 percent to $385,000 for Attached homes. Days on Market decreased 13.6 percent for Detached homes and 17.1 percent for Attached homes. Supply decreased 29.2 percent for Detached homes and 38.9 percent for Attached homes.

Unemployment has reached pre-recession levels, and Americans remain optimistic about finding quality employment. This matters because job growth and higher paychecks fuel home purchases. Unfortunately, that won't matter for potential buyers if price appreciation outpaces income growth and if mortgage rates continue their upward trend. Sellers are getting a generous number of offers in this market. The worry for sellers then becomes that there will not be a generous number of homes to choose from when they become buyers.
